10.2. The examining body is the General Manager of the Institut Ramon Llull.

10.3. The applications are analysed by an assessment committee appointed as part of the grant application process and includes external experts.

10.4. Once the applications have been evaluated by the assessment committee, the examining body formulates a motion for a provisional resolution on the award of the grants, based on, where applicable, the assessment committee's report and in accordance with Point 11. The proposed recipients are required to submit additional documents, and, based on these documents, the motion for a provisional resolution and the ex officio checks made in accordance with Point 11, the examining body formulates the motion for a final resolution on the award of the grants and raises it to the decision-making body.

According to usual procedure, the proposed resolution on the awarding of grants is based on the assessment committee's reports. However, if the body drawing up the proposal does not follow the reports, this shall give rise to a discrepancy.

The grant will be taken as tacitly accepted if the proposed beneficiary files no further allegations within this 10-working day period.

11.4. The proposed recipients may also withdraw their applications within the 10-day period referred to in the previous section.

11.5. The documents referred to in Point 11.3, which must be provided if not previously submitted along with the application, are as follows:

If it is not clear to which goods or service the invoice pertains, the corresponding delivery notes or other supporting documents must be provided. Cash payments must be accredited by means of receipts that are dated, signed and stamped by the payee and specify the corresponding invoice. The payee’s stamp must, as a minimum, feature his/her Tax ID number (NIF).

16.4 If any rectifiable errors are found in the supporting documents, the recipient shall be informed privately and given a period of 10 working days in which to rectify said errors.

16.5 If the supporting documents are not submitted within the established period, the recipient shall be instructed to submit said documents within a non-extendable period of 15 working days. This instruction shall be issued to the recipient individually. Failure to submit said documents within this period will result in the revocation of the grant, and the recipient shall be subject to the liabilities specified in the legislation on grant procedures. Submission of the supporting documents within the additional period indicated above shall not exempt the beneficiary from any sanctions which may apply under the terms of Law 38/2003 of 17 November, regarding grants.

16.6 The Institut Ramon Llull may, on an ex officio basis or at the behest of the recipient, extend the period for submitting the supporting documents. Changes that are not notified or expressly accepted may lead to the total or partial revocation of the grant.

When choosing among the submitted bids, which must be included in the supporting documents, the criteria of efficiency and economy must be applied, and the choice must be expressly explained in a report if the most economically advantageous proposal is not chosen.

ANNEX

ETHICAL PRINCIPLES AND RULES OF CONDUCT BY WHICH GRANT RECEPIENTS MUST ABIDE WHEN CARRYING OUT THEIR ACTIVITIES, AND EFFECTS OF POSSIBLE NON-COMPLIANCE WITH THESE PRINCIPLES

In accordance with article 55.2 of Law 19/2014, dated 29 December, regarding transparency, access to public information and good governance, administrations and organisations comprising the sphere of application of said law must include in their guidelines for calls for grant applications, the ethical principles and rules of conduct that grant recipients must abide by when carrying out their activity, and the effects of possible non-compliance with these principles.
